Check Travel Funds

Have some travel funds floating around? See what balance you're working with from any unused or canceled flight reservations, Southwest® gift cards, or Southwest LUV Vouchers®. If you need to look up more than one, you can search up to four of each at a time.

Making your money go further. That's Transfarency.®

Things to know before you book

All travel booked with unused funds or a Southwest LUV Voucher must be completed by the expiration date. Don't let your trips takeoff without you!

Travel funds from unused or canceled flight reservations have to be used by the originally ticketed passenger on those reservations. That means your Southwest travel funds are all yours (sorry, Mom).
